Consumer Alert

December 15, 2017

The Department of Business Oversight (“DBO”) recently sent out a Consumer Alert, which was picked up and repeated by HousingWire, concerning a consumer warning about a scam instigated by unknown third parties and purporting to be from Impac Mortgage Corp. The alert indicates that someone is contacting consumers representing himself as Joseph Tomkinson on behalf of Impac Mortgage Corp. The borrowers were communicated with from an email address: impacmortgagecorp@gmail.com. Consumers were offered unsecured loans, but only after they pay upfront loan processing fees with money orders.

Impac has been in touch with the DBO regarding this situation which is why they issued the Consumer Alert.

We thank you for your continued business.
